Specific examples

- Engaged as an expert witness by the defence team representing the former Group Financial Controller of Wickes plc who was charged with fraudulent trading in a prosecution brought by the SFO – the principal area of expert evidence being rebate recognition.
- Engaged as an expert witness by the defence team representing the former Chief Executive of TransTec PLC who was charged with various offences in a prosecution brought by the SFO – the principal area of expert evidence being revenue recognition.
- Engaged by the Financial Conduct Authority as an expert witness in the prosecution of a number of the directors of iSOFT Plc – the principal area of expert evidence being revenue recognition.
- Engaged as an expert witness in a civil dispute involving the concealment of trading in financial instruments, and gave evidence at trial remotely during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Financial Investigations – Criminal

- Responsible for the performance of more than a dozen financial investigations on behalf of the SFO. Extensive involvement with these cases ranging from the seizure and analysis of accounting records to the interviewing of witnesses (both voluntarily and under Section 2 of the Criminal Justice Act 1987) and the preparation of reports. Ascertained the manner in which the effects of dishonest conduct were concealed in the accounting records and financial statements of companies, and correlated the concealment methods with the dishonest intentions of the culprits.
- Appointed under Section 177 of the Financial Services Act 1986 by the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry to investigate allegations of insider dealing. Analysed transactions in securities, identified relevant price sensitive information and the timing of its release to the market, interviewed suspects and witnesses under oath, and prepared reports to the Secretary of State.
- Appointed by the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry under Section 447 of the Companies Act 1985 to seize, examine, analyse and report upon companies' accounting records and other documents.
- Engaged to investigate allegations of corrupt conduct by the Chief Executive Officer of substantial group of companies operating in the Middle East.

- Engaged to perform financial investigations in connection with Unexplained Wealth Orders.
- Engaged to investigate alleged breaches of financial sanctions.
- Engaged in connection with many matrimonial proceedings to investigate suspicions that full disclosure of assets had not been made on Forms E.
- Engaged to investigate alleged corruption associated with the acquisition of rights to host sports tournaments.

Financial Investigations – Regulatory

- Assisted the Financial Services Authority (now the Financial Conduct Authority) with its investigation of the conduct of fund managers of split capital investment trusts.
- Performed a substantial investigation of a major international bank that had grounds to suspect that one of its former senior managers had assisted certain of the bank's customers in market manipulation, insider dealing and tax avoidance activities.
- Appointed by the Jersey Financial Services Commission ("JFSC") as a Competent Person under Article 33 of the Financial Services (Jersey) Law 1998 to investigate the conduct of a trust company.
- Engaged by the Financial Reporting Council ("FRC") to assist with its investigation of the conduct of certain of the directors and senior managers of a group of companies engaged in the provision of services under long-term contracts. The investigation also considered the conduct of the group's auditor. The principal matters encountered in this investigation were the accounting for long-term contracts, revenue recognition and the sufficiency of the auditor's work.
- Appointed by the JFSC pursuant to Directions issued under Article 23 of the Financial Services (Jersey) Law 1998 to supervise the transactions and activities proposed to be undertaken by trust and company services businesses.
- Appointed by the Isle of Man Financial Services Authority to report upon the governance arrangements and remediation activities of a trust company.

Financial Investigations – Civil

- Investigated suspicions of corruption within management teams and "kickbacks" within procurement functions for British Government agencies. The reports were used to justify employees' dismissals on grounds of gross misconduct, to recover public monies, and subsequently by the Crown Prosecution Service to consider the viability of criminal prosecutions.
- Investigated suspicions of dishonest conduct by employees on behalf of a variety of businesses and charities. Identified misappropriated assets, "kickback" transactions and secret profits, and worked with the companies' lawyers to secure recoveries and terminate contracts of employment. Other assignments have involved companies that suffered financial losses through the dishonest actions of their suppliers and customers.

- Investigated the misappropriation of funds from a major international bank by the use of forged negotiable instruments. Examined documents in locations throughout Europe and in parts of Africa. Subsequently worked with the bank's lawyers in several jurisdictions to recover the misappropriated monies whilst minimising risks to the bank's reputation.
- Performed an investigation on behalf of a major computer hardware manufacturer of fraudulent warranty claims made by service providers located throughout Europe. Electronically compared the serial numbers on parts returned for repair/replacement under warranty with the serial numbers of the machines from which they were purportedly extracted by the service providers. Ascertained whether the returned part formed an integral component of the machine from which it was said to have been extracted and, if so, whether the machine itself was within its warranty period at the time of extraction. Identified many fraudulent claims and recovered significant monies for the client.
- Engaged to analyse transactions in a substantial number of works of art in a dispute between the Estate of an artist and his former gallery. This work involved the examination of a substantial number of documents to identify the full population of the artist's works, together with every transaction in each work, to demonstrate that the artist's gallery had appropriately accounted to the artist for all his works.
- Appointed to investigate the veracity of claims made by the purchaser of a Bulgarian company under the LCIA's rules. This assignment primarily involved establishing whether the vendor's completion account complied with IFRS.
- Engaged to provide an expert opinion on the financial condition of an investment scheme and, in particular, whether the scheme exhibited the hallmarks of a Ponzi scheme.
- Appointed to give expert evidence on the fair values of shares in privately-held companies.
- Engaged to give expert evidence on the quantum of damages, including consequential losses, arising from contractual breaches.

Asset Tracing and Recovery

- Broad experience of working with lawyers in the tracing and recovery of assets in both the civil and criminal arenas.
- Appointed by the Financial Investigation Units of a number of police constabularies to assist with asset confiscation proceedings to disgorge the proceeds of criminal activities.

- Participated in a large civil case between Jyske Bank (Gibraltar) Limited and Jan Henning Speldneas and Others which involved tracing some 2,000 transactions denominated in 15 different currencies through more than 250 accounts maintained at branches of banks located in 14 countries. Presented results in a series of flowcharts, supported by narrative statements and exhibits, which facilitated the understanding of a complex web of interactive and deliberately confusing transactions. Applied a tracing methodology to overcome the overdraft rule in circumstances where loan proceeds had been drawn down into overdrawn current accounts in an apparent attempt to defeat the claimant's tracing remedies.
- Engaged to assist with the analysis of banking transactions denominated in a variety of currencies which involved complicated matters of law as regards the tracing of assets through numerous fiduciary deposit accounts and the consequential overdrafts on current accounts occasioned by the withdrawals made to fund these deposits. Gave oral evidence to the High Court explaining, among other things, the commercial substance of such transactions and the justifications for the tracing methodologies applied.
